

EXTENSION ACTIVITIES

WRITING EXTENSION:

- Have students work in pairs to make up rhymes about their work.
(Giving them the first line, or helping them find the rhyming words first can be helpful.)
- Help them find and test the rhythm for their words.
- (Optional) Read samples:

MATH CLASS

We had data for rare hens
so we graphed it, one to ten.
The teacher said, "Practice again!"
so after that we graphed the men.

THE JOKE

They asked me, "WHAT'S A HENWAY?"
I didn't have a clue
But I made a graph with them,
and now I can tell you!

To the tune of Three Blind Mice:

Ten rare hens

Ten rare hens..

(let students complete the rest)

One's too heavy;

one's too light.

Weigh them again!
